By Carrie Jennings
 Vance Bushong is the son of John and Christy Bushong as well as the brother of Vanna, Victor, and Vincent Bushong. His birthday is May 3rd of 1999.

Upon graduating, he plans on attending Evangel University in Springfield, Missouri to study broadcasting.

Bushong's favorite memory is winning the National FFA Farm Business Management CDE.

His biggest regret, on the other hand, is not doing two speech events his sophomore year. "Don't ever sell yourself short," he says.

His most ridiculous injury was when he tried to do a front flip and fell on his face instead. If he was ever stuck on an island and could only bring one person, he would bring Chuck Norris because he could carry the island back to the mainland.

He would like to thank Mr. Stanton with these words: "Even though I only had him one year of high school, he solidified and shaped my love of music."

Born on September 5 of 2000, her favorite memory was watching her brother Eoin "run around like a crazy person after prom because he was still hypnotized."

She says that she has no greatest regrets from high school, specifically stating, "No regrets."

The most ridiculous way that she has received an injury was in elementary school, and she was standing on a swing when she fell and winded herself, and got dust all over her white clothes.

If she were stranded on an island, she would take her brother Shane because, "he'd keep me calm and he has the survival skills that would keep both of them alive."

She would most like to thank underclassman Harry Hamilton, and she says that he knows why.
